MARSHAL FOCH SPEEDS WEST

Accompanied by General Pershing,
He Arrives in Kansas City
This Afternoon

WILL GREET LEGION

Allied Leader Calls on Government
Officials in Washington, Then
Says "Au Revoir"

Washington, Oct. 30. — Marshal Foch and General Pershing tonight were speeding on a special train to Kansas City, where they will greet in the American Legion convention many whom they commanded as generalissimo of the Allied armies and commander of the American Expeditionary Forces, respectively.

The two military leaders left Washington at 9:30 this morning, accompanied by members of their staffs and by high officers of the Legion. The special train on which they are traveling is due to reach Kansas City late tomorrow.

The warm welcome accorded Foch in Washington did not spend itself until his train left the station, hundreds congregating about the station and filling a portion of the huge concourse in the early morning. They bade him not farewell but au revoir, for the marshal will return to the capital November 10 to take part in the ceremonies on the following day incident to the burial of America's unknown soldier.

Welcomed by Harding.

Marshal Foch was formally welcomed to the United States yesterday by President Harding and from the chief executive as well as from another high government official the Allied generalissimo received the nations thanks for his victorious leadership. From the people of Washington he was the recipient of a continuation of the hearty and noisy welcome accorded him upon his arrival in New York.

After a round of official calls, that included a state luncheon at the White House and a stop at ex-President Wilson's home to leave his cards, Marshal Foch motored to Mount Vernon and repaid the memorable visit of General Pershing to the grave of Lafayette by laying a wreath of roses, chrysanthemums and autumn leaves on the tomb of Washington.

After the impressive ceremonies there Marshal Foch motored back to Washington for the last function of the day, a reception at the French embassy and a stop at the French consulate and diplomatic Washington.

Converses With President.

With Ambassador Jusserand as interpreter, the President and the Allied Commander conferred for some time. The marshal received from the President the assurance that France held a high place in the heart of the American people.

On leaving the White House, amid the cheers of a great throng along the driveway, Marshal Foch drove to the capitol for formal call on Vice-President Coolidge, who told him during their brief but cordial conversation that he had "saved both France and America."

The next call was upon Secretary Hughes at the state department, and passing through the same building he visited the offices of the secretary of war, where, in Mr. Weeks' absence, he was received by Assistant Secretary of War Wainwright. He then visited the office of the chief of staff and called upon General Pershing.

Marshal Foch with his entire staff and Ambassador Jusserand then drove to Woodrow Wilson's home and remained in his automobile while Brig. Gen. William D. Connor, the marshal's honorary aid from the American army, entered the house. He was received by John Randolph Bolling, Mr. Wilson's brother-in-law, now acting as his confidential secretary.

Mr. Bolling told General Connor that upon physician's orders the former President was unable to receive any callers. The message was translated to Marshal Foch, who sent back General Connor with his cards and expressions of regret and hopes that Mr. Wilson's indisposition was not serious.

French Press Delighted.

Paris, Oct. 30. — The entire French press, with the exception of the Socialists and Communist newspapers, today devoted much space to the reception in the United States of Marshal Foch, expressing great satisfaction over the warmth of the greetings accorded him in New York and Washington.

"There is not a single Frenchman who has not been moved by the triumphant welcome given Foch in New York and Washington," says a dispatch to the Temps. "Let us thank our American friends and tell them of our delight."

The Communist organ Internationalism says:

"America is welcoming Foch superlatively. But so they did Carpentier."

MAYOR AND TEN OTHERS FIND THEY BOUGHT STOLEN CARS

Westbrook, Mo., Oct. 30. — Mayor John Lawrence of this city and other residents have discovered that they unwittingly bought automobiles alleged to have been stolen. Recently a young man visited the city and offered the cars at bargain prices. He sold eleven here and three in Freeport. The youth is now under arrest in New Jersey charged with the theft of automobiles.

The fact that the cars sold in Freeport had been stolen has been established and the purchasers have been compelled to give them up.

The mayor and other buyers in this city have retained counsel to make a legal contest to enable them to keep their automobiles.

They Deny It

THREATS AGAINST LEGATION IN CUBA

Terrorist Proclamations Threaten "Dagger of Vengeance Against Americans"

Havana, Oct. 30. — Threats against Major General Enoch H. Crowder and the United States legation in Havana are contained in proclamations distributed here in connection with the Sacco-Vanzetti case. The posters denounce General Crowder as a "representative of the American bourgeoisie," and threaten "the dagger of vengeance against the Americans."

The police arrested ten persons at the headquarters of a syndicalist labor organization. A number of terrorist proclamations were found on the premises. Other arrests are expected.

The prisoners will be given preliminary hearings tomorrow in a special court, which is investigating the terrorist agitation.

Sacco and Vanzetti Defended.

Boston, Oct. 30. — A statement asking the public to judge the guilt or innocence of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, "on the basis of evidence introduced in the court room and not on the basis of newspaper fabrications about the two men and their friends," was issued by the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee today. The committee, formed soon after the arrest of the two Italians on the charge of murder, of which they were later convicted, is now trying to obtain a new trial for them.

"In view of the persistence with which the press of the country has spread fantastic stories without the slightest foundation in fact," the statement said, "stories whose chief effect is to hurt the defense of Sacco and Vanzetti, the committee conducting the defense feels called upon to make an unequivocal statement. The dime novel rumors and lies that have been swarmed by newspapers in Boston and elsewhere seem to us to have been 'planted' by those who want to embarrass and discredit the entirely legal and peaceable national defense."

"The lurid plots and threats attributed to mythical individuals referred to as 'Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers' are so thoroughly harmful to the effort being made to save the two men from the electric chair that they could not have originated in the minds of friends. Either they were planted by persons desirous of putting the two prisoners into disrepute or they are lies, pure and simple."

"We feel that the level-headed, intelligent and honest portion of the community accepts these accusations for what they are worth. Nevertheless, the incessant printing of alarmist headlines about fictitious plots and attacks, with not a scintilla of truth in the body of the articles to justify these headlines, is sure to create a state of public mind wherein the chief issue—namely whether Sacco and Vanzetti are guilty or not of the crime charged against them—will be lost sight of."

The statement adds that newspapers "should not sacrifice all principles of justice and a square deal towards two men awaiting death."

FATHER CONVINCED STUDENT SON IS VICTIM OF MURDER

Buffalo, Oct. 30. — M. D. Losoy, superintendent of schools in Northport, Long Island, returned home today with the body of his son Kenneth, found in the Niagara river last Thursday night. Before leaving, Mr. Losoy expressed the firm conviction that his son was murdered and that he had been lured here to his death by "some powerful influence." He had no theory as to what the influence might have been.

Although the county medical examiner has officially pronounced the case one of murder and declared that Losoy was dead before his body entered the water, the police have not abandoned their theory that he met death by accident or was a suicide.

Three days of investigation have failed to reveal a clue to the young man's activities while in Buffalo and Niagara Falls, or to establish any motive for his murder, detectives said.

TWO DEAD, TWO SERIOUSLY HURT AS AUTO PLUNGES

New York, Oct. 30. — An automobile crashed through a Grand Concourse viaduct railing tonight and fell to the roadway 30 feet below, crushing one of its occupants to death and seriously injuring two others, who may die, while the fourth, a manufacturer, ran to the viaduct rail to learn the fate of the automobile. Lost his balance and plunged headlong into the wreckage machine. He died 30 minutes later.

TRANSPORTATION ACT NEEDS TEETH

Uses Word "Shall" Up to Certain Point and Then Power Ceases, Hooper Declares

LABOR BOARD ACTS

Rules Against Changes in Wages or Working Conditions Until Authorized

Chicago, Oct. 30. — The transportation act needs some legislative dentistry to provide against future railroad strikes, Ben W. Hooper, vice chairman of the United States Railroad Labor board, today asserted in an address before the men's class of a local church.

"In my judgment, congress should not have perpetrated the irony of pulling the board's teeth and then telling it to go forth and bite those who interrupt traffic and strangle commerce," he said.

"The transportation act, under which the board operates, is unique in one respect. There is no court, tribunal or agency of the government that does not possess the power to inflict penalties for the violation of its decisions."

"The transportation act uses the word 'shall' up to a certain point and then its mandatory provisions cease."

"It says that the carriers and employees 'shall' confer and negotiate for the settlement of their disputes, that if they do not agree they 'shall' take the matter up to the railroad labor board, and that the board 'shall' decide the dispute."

"Just here the law ceases to be imperative. It provides that if the board, upon inquiry, finds that its decision has been violated, it 'may' make public its decision in such manner as it may determine."

"In other words, the board may point the finger of scorn at the violator, and call down upon his head the denunciation of the public."

Labor Board's Pronouncement.

In a decision stating its findings as the result of Wednesday's hearing regarding the strike situation, the Railroad Labor board declared "that any union going out on strike will forfeit its right and the rights of its members in all existing contracts and lose all benefits accorded by the transportation act."

At the same time the board renegeated the wage cut decision of July, which the brotherhoods violated by authorizing the strike, the class of settled issues, and definitely ruled that no changes in working conditions or wages could be made until authorized by the board.

With the controversy that lead to the strike cleared away, the only issues left to be fought out between the roads and the unions are the working rules, still to be decided by the board, and the expected appeal by the board, and the expected appeal by the roads for their 10 per cent. wage cut. As the working rules are expected to take up many months of the board's time, the chance of a new wage controversy coming up for action soon is regarded here as remote.

Reports from Cleveland say that the unions plan to ask for a rehearing on the July wage cut, a measure to counteract the movement of the railroad to seek further wage reductions. But this course is thought unlikely, as the board is not empowered to reconsider decisions, except where conditions have materially changed or new evidence is disclosed.

The chiefs of the "Big Five" are at work in Cleveland on a summary of the brotherhoods' views of the proposal for further wage cuts.

In the meantime the representatives of the Pennsylvania lines are preparing to test the Railroad board's authority in regard to the method of electing employees' representatives on conference boards.

No Change in Texas Strike.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 30. — Outwardly the strike situation on the International and Great Northern railroad remained unchanged tonight. The 600 trainmen who went on a strike Saturday, October 22, still were out and no adjuster led to their return to work has been made. Their strike was authorized some time previous to and put into effect after the recent permission for a national strike by the Big Five brotherhoods. The I. G. N. strike was unaffected by recall of the general strike order.

WOMAN RECLUSE FOUND TO POSSESS OVER $175,000

New York, Oct. 30. — Bank books showing deposits of more than $175,000 and $1,760 in cash, were found by police today in the Brooklyn home of Mrs. Margaret Easton, 75 years old, while investigating her death late Saturday night. The elderly woman lived alone.

She was found dead by a grocer's boy, who had called for orders. Getting no response to his ring of the doorbell and learning from neighbors that Mrs. Easton had not been seen about the house for several days, the boy climbed through a window and found her body. A physician said she had died three days ago from natural causes. Neighbors told the police that Mrs. Easton seldom had left the house since the death of her husband six years ago.

ARMED MOTORCYCLE GUARD ACCOMPANY MAIL TRUCKS

New York, Oct. 30. — Responsibility for failure to carry out orders for the protection of valuable mail, which enabled bandits to hold up a mail truck in Broadway last Monday night and escape with $1,500,000 in securities and cash, will be determined by an investigation ordered today by Postmaster General Hays.

All mail trucks leaving the City Hall station today were accompanied by armed motorcycle guards. In the future, postal officials said, trucks will be sent from various stations to the railway depots only when they have full loads, instead of running them on a schedule time. Each truck will then be accompanied by two or three armed motorcycle escorts.

HARVARD'S FIRST DEFEAT SINCE '16

Princeton Has Had Disastrous Season; Review of Saturday's Big Games

New York, Oct. 30. — Under the stigma of defeat for the first time since 1916, Harvard's gridiron clan today was looking with anxiety toward their game with Princeton next Saturday—the first of the season's three big clashes. Before the Center college eleven of Danville, Ky., one of the smallest colleges in the South, Harvard went down to a 6 to 0 defeat on Saturday.

Only the week before, Harvard had barely managed to tie the Penn State in their game of the week before they had had a hard tussle with Georgia university, winning by a field goal. Princeton also has had a disastrous season. Against the Naval academy eleven they melted away, losing, 13 to 0; and went down in defeat also before Stagg's Chicagoans, 9 to 0. They crawled out of the depths to which they had descended against the Navy and Chicago on Saturday, however, and defeated Virginia, 34 to 0.

"Bo" McMillin, a Texan, selected as an All-American quarter-back in 1918, scaled great heights in the game against the Crimson. It was McMillin who made the lone touchdown of the game on a great run of more than 30 yards through Harvard's first and second defensive lines and it was the same "Bo" who directed his men in a series of plays that completely baffled the Crimson.

While Center was making football history at Cambridge, another southern eleven, the "Golden Tornado" from Atlanta, was being reduced to a mere dust cloud by Hugo Bezdek's Penn State crew. Fully rested after its splendid tie game against Harvard the week before, Penn State displayed great strength in both attack and defense, which tells the 23 to 7 story of victory.

Yale, with Maryland university on its schedule for next Saturday, has come through the season without defeat. Brown was the victim of the Ell eleven Saturday, furnishing little opposition for the Bulldog, which won, 45 to 7.

Glenn Warner's highly efficient Pittsburgh eleven threw a dashing offensive against Penn's lines and scored four touchdowns in the first half. Penn shot itself together in the last quarter and launched a counter attack which fell away before the Pittsburgh line. Pittsburgh won, 23 to 0.

Cornell crushed Dartmouth, 59 to 7. Nervous at first, Dobie's backs fumbled many times but soon settled down and, with the exception of the second period, were masters of the situation. Dartmouth's lone touchdown came on a series of rushes after a Cornell fumble.

The Navy added Bethany to its victims, 21 to 0, and the military academy shot itself together in the last quarter and launched a counter attack which fell away before the Pittsburgh line. Pittsburgh won, 23 to 0.

Cornell crushed Dartmouth, 59 to 7. Nervous at first, Dobie's backs fumbled many times but soon settled down and, with the exception of the second period, were masters of the situation. Dartmouth's lone touchdown came on a series of rushes after a Cornell fumble.

LEGIONNAIRES GATHER TODAY

Political Convention Develops as Early Arrivals Begin Caucuses

TO NAME NEW HEAD

Probably Will Be Man From South or West; New Yorkers Out For the Best Man

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 30. — The equivalent of a war strength division, made up of men from New England to San Francisco, their wives and relatives, had arrived here tonight to attend the national convention of the American Legion which begins tomorrow. Included in the hundreds of arrivals today were two the Legion's guests from abroad—General Armando Diaz of Italy and General Baron Jacques of Belgium.

They reached the city this morning within half an hour of one another and were given a rousing welcome. Another notable to arrive was Vice President Coolidge. President Harding's official representative. Prolonged cheering also greeted Mr. Coolidge. A national political convention probably never developed more electioneering and lobbying than was witnessed today and tonight. State delegations, virtually all of which are here, began caucuses and vote trading.

Three outstanding points engage the attention of the Legion—the choice for next national commander, selection of the next convention city and a fight to remove the permanent headquarters from Indianapolis.

Southerner or Westerner.

There seemed to be a general acceptance among the delegates that a man from the South or West would be the next national commander. The Eastern states thus far have not lined up behind any candidate. New York announced it was not favoring anyone but would vote for the best man.

The Missouri delegation has been trying to gain enough votes to bring the permanent national headquarters from Indianapolis to Kansas City. New Orleans and San Francisco apparently have come out as the strongest contenders for the next convention. A resolution voicing an unmistakable demand for immediate action by congress on the federal bonus proposition will be one of the principal issues taken up by the convention, it was said. The resolutions committee began work in executive session today.

The credential committee today certified the total convention's voting strength at 1,060. New York holds the most votes with a total of 80, Pennsylvania comes next with 65 and Illinois stands third with 62.

Delegates from Alaska, Africa, Chile, the British Isles, Canada, Panama Canal Zone, China, Cuba, France, Guatemala, Hawaii, Japan, Mexico, Peru, Porto Rico and Turkey will be seated.

The alternates will swell the number on the floor more than two-fold.

VETERANS' BUREAU SHOULD WIDEN SCOPE OF ACTIVITY

Washington, Oct. 30. — Recommendations designed to increase the efficiency of the veterans' bureau were made in a report published today by the special senate committee which is investigating government activities for the relief of former service men. The report was the second compiled by the committee, which has not yet completed its task.

The bureau should "broaden its interpretation and widen the scope of application of existing laws," the report said, adding that additional legislation would be sought to meet deficiencies shown by its hearings.

Among specific recommendations were: Appropriation of $16,400,000 for hospitals, transfer to the bureau of all government hospitals, including soldier homes not needed by the army or navy; creation of a chaplain corps for service in hospitals and training centers; provision of certificates of soldier homes for the internment of veteran dead standardization of training, permitting the applicant to select, as far as possible, his own vocation, extension of existing insurance to $10,000 for each policy-holder if he wants it and extension of insurance and compensation privileges to Americans who served in Allied forces.

Cancellation of contracts with state, municipal and private hospitals which were not in existence April 1, 1917 and with all similar institutions which after inspection are found unsuitable, was recommended as one administrative reform. Others, found under this head, including: Insurance of rules and regulations for the maintenance of order and discipline; frequent and thorough inspection of hospitals and training centers; elimination of politics from appointments; establishment of additional vocational centers at institutions where mental and tubercular patients are under treatment.

To July 1, 1921, there had been 338,000 applications for vocational training, the committee found, adding that "although we are approaching the third anniversary of the armistice, only 5,050 have been rehabilitated."

"It is with deep regret," the committee said, "that we report this melancholy fact."

REDOUBLED EFFORTS TO AID UNEMPLOYED

Conference's Standing Committee Will Perfect Measures for Insuring Work

Washington, Oct. 30. — Efforts of the administration to solve the nation's unemployment problem, interrupted by the threatened railroad strike, are being redoubled, officials declared tonight. Secretary Hoover, officials said, is expected to call a meeting next week of the standing committee of the national conference on unemployment to begin the study of phases of the question in line with the perfection of permanent measures for insuring work for the wage earners.

Studies carried on by this committee, officials asserted, would be designed to prevent sharp variations in the country's employment curve over a period of years by suggesting methods for spreading work opportunity equally over the lean and the fat years.

In connection with the recommendations of the conference to increase employment through public works, Secretary Hoover made public reports from the 27 states comprising the northeastern section of the country showing the award of more building contracts in September than in any other month this year, or any September on record. The amount was 11.5 per cent greater than in August. Comprehensive statistics have been collected by the conference, Mr. Hoover said, to be made available to communities for use in handling their unemployment situations.

DENBY COMMENDS HEROIC SAILORS

Out of Many Cases, Navy Secretary Picks Six for Special Praise and Reward

Washington, Oct. 29. — Out of many cases of heroism recently reported to Secretary Denby from naval ships and stations, all over the world, he has selected six men for special commendation.

To Chief Machinist Mate Jesse Edgar Melton of Edgewood, Texas, who risked his own life in saving two shipmates, Secretary Denby has recommended award of the Gold Life-Saving Medal of the treasury department. Last May, while the destroyer Tarbell was in the Philippines, Mr. Melton, with eleven men on board was awakened in a choppy sea. Finding that two of them could not swim, Melton left them afloat and jumped up.

While the naval store ship Bladwy was lying in Lynnhaven Roads last month, one of her boats came away its davits and threw three men into the water. Four men dove after them and were successful in rescuing their shipmates. For their heroism Secretary Denby has sent letters of commendation to the men. Mate Coleman J. Griffin of South Boston, Francis Francis A. Zeppelanti of Salem, Ohio and Seaman John L. O'Donnell, Wilmington, Del., and William A. Walker of Brooklyn, N. Y., Philip Vance Coyles of Memphis, N. C., a seaman on the submarine K-2, has been awarded for his rescue of Seaman Everett T. Harmon, who fell overboard between two naval vessels tied alongside each other at Gloucester, Mass. Due to the closeness of the vessels, Coyles' act was at the risk of his own life.

HUNGARY CALLED ON TO GIVE CHARLES TO ALLIES

Budapest, Oct. 30. — What is declared to be an ultimatum was delivered today to the Hungarian government by representatives of Great Britain, France and Italy, in behalf of the Entente, demanding that Charles be handed over to the commander of the British squadron and the immediate proclamation of his deposition as king.

About the same time, representatives of the Little Entente notified the foreign minister that if the ultimatum was not obeyed without delay, Hungary alone would be responsible for the inevitable and serious consequences.

FLOOD WRECKS MINING TOWN

36 Persons Known to Be Dead, 13 Missing and 16 Seriously Injured, as a Result

NO TIME TO ESCAPE

After Three-Mile Journey Down Mountain, Waters Smash Through Village

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 30. — Thirty-six persons are known to be dead, 13 and perhaps more are missing, and 16 are seriously injured as a result of the disastrous flood which plunged down a steep mountainside Friday night and transformed the model copper mining settlement of Britannia Beach into a scene of desolation and ruin.

Fully half of the 110 neat cottages were carried away on the crest of the flood. Others were smashed to pieces by the force of the rushing waters and most of the remainder were still submerged tonight.

Four children are dead and ten others are reported missing. Ten of the dead and all of the injured were brought to Vancouver last evening. All the injured are expected to recover.

Rescue Work Is Slow.

An energetic search for the missing was made today, but the work was slow because of the difficulties in clearing away the wreckage in the sea of mud and water. It is considered doubtful if the bodies of some of the missing will ever be recovered, as they are believed to have been washed into the muddy water of Howe Sound.

Manager Donahue, of the Britannia mines, today described the efforts made by those on duty at the mines, three miles back from the beach, to warn the residents of the danger. When the railway bank, which caused the accumulation of water in the hills, gave way and released a roaring torrent into the creek, a warning was sent over the private telephone line of the mines. This message was received by Miss Ellen Patterson, telephone operator on duty at the compressor plant in the village. She instantly rang everybody connected by telephone, relaying the miners' message.

"For God's sake, get out of your houses; flood coming down the creek," she called.

Waters Plunge Through Village.

Before the warning could be understood and circulated about the town, the waters crashed down the mountainside, sweeping away the transmission lines and plunging the village into darkness.

The waters had fallen 2,000 feet in their three-mile journey down the mountain and smashed straight through the center of the settlement. Britannia creek now runs through the village itself, which is under several feet of water, strewed with timber, telegraph poles, furniture and other wreckage. Most of the houses were without strong foundations and yielded readily to the surge of the flood.

The only undamaged buildings on the residential side of the town are the custom house, a moving picture theatre, an amusement hall, and a few houses. On the other side of the town, a store, hotel and some of the mill shops were still standing.

The lighting system was restored today in the south side of the town. Squamish, a town eight miles north of here, also was flooded, but the damage was not great.

ON TRAIL OF TRAIN WRECKERS

Three Men Injured When Grand Trunk Train Goes Into Ditch; Detective Plot Seen

Lebanon, Me., Oct. 26. — County authorities and railroad detectives returning for three men believed to have deliberately derailed a west-bound Grand Trunk passenger train to kill a man, have been questioned. The men, who were part of a criminal outfit, being held in 100 per cent stamps and evidence in the vicinity of the wreck that resulted in injuries to three persons.

Of the injured, only the fireman, Thomas Stimpson, of Battle Creek, is in a serious condition. He was tossed about in the cab of the locomotive as it rolled over into the ditch. The other injured, two brothers, were severely lacerated.

The train wreckers removed a rail near Lebanon, three miles from here, with the result that the entire train, except one Pullman car, plunged into the ditch.

And the train had been deliberately wrecked was established, officials said, by the finding of track workers tools at the point of the derailment. Railroad men identified the tools as having been stolen from the Elba section house two days ago.

The engineer observed from a distance that a rail had been removed and was able to slacken the speed of the train before it reached the spot. The engine turned over three times as it hurtled into the ditch and this so diminished the speed of the coaches that they merely left the rails and tumbled over. The track was torn up for more than 100 yards.

WALL STREET HAILS STRIKE SETTLEMENT

Welcome News Last Week to Financial District; Market Moderately Enthusiastic

New York, Oct. 30.—Cancellation of the railroad strike order by unanimous vote of the union organizations was the one important event of last week in the financial district. The stock market responded to this announcement, however, with moderate enthusiasm.

From the inception of the controversy, Wall street believed the differences between the brotherhoods and railway executives would be adjusted. This feeling was heightened when it became known that the railroad labor board had declared the proposed walk-out illegal.

Industrial conditions affecting the steel and iron trade were featured by the quarterly reports of the United States Steel and Bethlehem Steel corporations, the former failing to earn any part of its common dividend and not all of the preferred. In both cases, however, the returns indicated gradual recovery from low levels.

The movement in domestic oils, especially those located in California, was the most conspicuous feature of the week. Dealings in these shares at substantial gains exceeded in the aggregate the trading in all other issues.

Brokers' loans showed further reduction and commercial demands again were limited to seasonal requirements. Despite these conservative influences and the further piling-up of reserves by federal banks, the money market gave little promise of immediate relaxation.

British and foreign continental exchanges reacted from last week's rally and Central and Eastern European currencies yielded to fresh political and other economic disturbances. Reports that the entire system of German reparations is to undergo radical revision probably have their basis in the fact that Germany's next indemnity payments are to be taken the form of raw materials, chiefly coal and structural steel.

THE SLACKER LIST.

Will be Checked Up Before Publication—Number Greatly Exaggerated.

The Star has received from the War Department the official list of men who failed to respond to calls issued by the Local Exemption Board for this district of Otsego county and who have not been located by government officials since and is investigating each case before publishing the names. In other cities much injustice has been done by the publication of the names of men who served honorably during the war and who were charged as technical deserters because of their failure to report their whereabouts during the war to their local boards.

The Star, with the cooperation of former Exemption Board officials and the police department, is checking up the list so that no one in this district who did his duty will be stigmatized by having his name, through technical error, published as that of a slacker.

The list contains seven names and is the shortest that has been published for any district in this vicinity. Before sending the list to the War Department after the armistice the Local Board spent some time in checking it up and board officials are confident that it will be found to contain the names of no men who can give a good account of themselves during the war period.

WHEN NERVES ARE UNSTRUNG

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Builds Up Vigor and Strength

There are times when men and women cannot help losing strength. They try to do too much or they lose sleep or do not eat enough food that nourishes. Blood becomes sluggish because poisons clog it. Forces grow pale and weary looking. It is not long before nerves get unstrung.

The best way to start a change for the better is to take a course of Gude's Pepto-Mangan. It builds the blood. The weak men from a lack of red cells in the blood is overcome. Gude's Pepto-Mangan sends a fresh supply of red cells streaming through the blood. Good blood, pure and free from poisons, starts building up vigor and strength. Sleep is better, appetite keener, so that the body becomes properly nourished. Druggists have Gude's Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package. SCHUYLER LAKE BARN BURNS

Schuyler Lake, Oct. 30.—Saturday evening, about 7:30 o'clock, the large 30-foot barn on the farm of Fred Wurster, below the trolley station and near Oaks creek, was discovered to be in flames and the building with a smaller one nearby was destroyed. It was only by hard work that the farm house was saved. There was an insurance of $600, which covers but a small part of the loss. The cause of the fire is a mystery.

Mr. Wurster has another, though smaller barn, in which he had some hay stored, so that he will be able to house his stock, though fodder will have to be bought. He plans at once to commence the erection of a new barn. He had recently done some quite extensive repair work upon the big barn, putting it in first class condition and, in fact, a small quantity of lumber left over was in the barn at the time.

The Chemical Fire company here responded and aid was summoned from Richfield Springs, the large truck from the latter village making a quick run and after being placed on the bridge pumped water from the creek and helped in saving the shed between the barn and the farmhouse and the latter as well, for had the shed burned it was thought it would have been impossible to save the house. With the barns there was burned the corn crib containing considerable corn. The insurance of Mr. Wurster is considered very light.

SALE SCATHINGLY ARRAIGNED

Judge Advocate Cromwell of Trial Court, Newark, N. J., as Yellow Through and Through.

If the finding of the court martial at New York on Friday stands, Linn A. E. Gale will serve a term of seven years in a federal prison for desertion and sedition. Captain Joseph P. Cromwell, who was trial judge advocate, gave the prisoner a scathing arraignment, and many of those who know Gale intimately believe that he is a good judge of character. The following from the New York Tribune of Saturday gives the story of the fate of Gale somewhat in detail:

Linn A. E. Gale, former Albany newspaper man and legislative clerk, was found guilty by the military court at Governor's Island yesterday of the primary charge of desertion and of sedition, published in Gale's "International Magazine," which he published in Mexico City following his flight from this country in 1915.

The findings of the court supported all of the ten specifications compiled under the three charges, and imprisonment for seven years at hard labor, dishonorably dismissed from the army, and forfeiture of all pay and allowances were recommended by the court.

These findings are subject to review by Major General Robert L. Bullard, corps area commander, and will be reported after two years and three months of good behavior if the sentence is commuted.

Brands Him as Yellow.

"He is a fellow clear through," said Captain Cromwell, "a creature of yellow that even after he was certified for limited or special service as a clerk. He is liable, if convicted, to a sentence of $10,000 fine or twenty years on each charge, and I think he should be sentenced to the maximum."

For P. McElligott, civilian counsel for Gale, declared that the were no longer disposed to prosecute men for utterances or publications that during the war were considered unpatriotic and said that he was a member of the Lusk committee and personally drafted and introduced one anti-sedition bill.

"The bill failed of passage," said Mr. McElligott, "because there were a great many people who believed, primarily we must not curtail the freedom of the press or freedom of speech, that people even during a war must be free to criticize governmental policies and men in public life, and I think the public now is not in favor of holding these people rigorously responsible for such criticism."

Denies He Hinted Army.

There has not been a bit of evidence to show that matter published by Gale down in Mexico, if he did publish it, had any influence whatever or prevented a single man joining the United States army.

Mr. McElligott, in previous arguments, had declared that the poems published by Gale's magazine were shown to have been written by others and that the editorials allegedly written by Gale were not attacks on the late President, but attacks on the country, and should be so regarded. He also contended that the draft records in Gale's case were defective and deficient.

OVER ON SOUTH SIDE

Two Changes in Residence Noted the Past Week—Well-Known Couple Married at Treadwell.

Orin Bedford, who for the past five years has been an efficient employee of Lester Green, and who has occupied Mr. Green's tenant house on South Side, moved his family the past week to North Haverfield, where he will conduct the George Moore farm. The many South Side friends of the family regret their departure. Fred Caldwell, who has been employed by Mr. Green for some time, has moved into the house vacated by Mr. Bedford and will continue his services on the Green farm.

George Wright, who has been manager of the Earl Hall farm, moves his family today into the house owned by his son-in-law, Ernest Rathbun. The many friends of the family will welcome them to their new home. George Emory of Morris takes Mr. Wright's place at the Hall farm and will be engaged with Mr. Hall for the winter. Clifford Trumbull, who has occupied the Rathbun house, is moving his family to a residence on Lower Chestnut Street.

Well Known on South Side.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hartman and son, Ludwig, were in Treadwell last Wednesday, where they attended the marriage of the son's nephew, Fred Bender, to Miss Isabelle Barlow, also of Treadwell. Upon their return, they will make their home at Treadwell, where the groom is a prosperous young man.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bender have numerous friends on South Side who will wish them many years of happiness together.

Hobart. The wedding will take place at noon Thursday, November 10, at the Methodist Episcopal church in Oneonta. The groom-to-be is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John King of Hobart, and is proprietor of a garage in this village. AUTO ACCIDENT AT DAVENPORT.

Buckboard of Mrs. All Smashed in Collision—Nobody Injured.

Davenport, Oct. 30.—There was a rear-end collision of auto and buckboard at about 6:20 o'clock this evening on the Stamford road about two miles east of this village, in which the wagon was overturned and badly damaged and a woman and child thrown out, fortunately neither being much injured. It appears that Mrs. All, who with her two children had been visiting on Hobart hill, was on her way home, driving one horse attached to a buckboard, in which besides herself was her little daughter. A young son accompanied them, riding a second horse. When they were about opposite the Waid Highland residence, the car of A. R. Benedict was following behind them, and two other cars approached from the west. Blinded by the light of these cars, Mr. Benedict did not see the All wagon, which had no rear light, and his car ran into the buckboard, which was pushed from 20 to 10 feet before the horse broke loose from the rig.

Mrs. All and daughter were thrown out over the dashboard. The latter suffered no injury, but Mrs. All fainted from the shock. She was taken to the Highland house, where she quickly recovered, and though Mr. Benedict offered to go for a physician, she did not think this was necessary and soon returned home. The only injury appears to have been to the wagon, which is a wreck.

Pick Assumes Charge of Delhi Store.

Carl H. Pick, for some time connected with the Federal Enforcement bureau, has accepted a position as manager of the Cooperative store at Delhi at a good salary. Mr. and Mrs. Pick move this week to Delhi, where the former begins work on November 1. As Mr. Pick is county attorney here, his work takes her much of the time to Delhi, and the change will be very convenient for her. When greeting town delegates, friends in Davenport will wish them all success in their new home.

MRS. ROSE LAID AWAY.

Large Attendance at Funeral Services—Miss Baker's Funeral Today.

Hobart, Oct. 30.—The funeral of Mrs. K. Rose was largely attended at the family home, Saturday afternoon, followed by burial at South Kortright. The services by the Rev. H. A. Armstrong were impressive, instructive and comforting from the suggestive text: "Enoch walked with God and he was not." For Good took him.

Mrs. Rose was the oldest child of Mrs. and Mr. Isaac Stillman and was born in Stamford township, where she lived until her marriage to Mr. Rose in 1898. The couple began life together at Rosehart farm on Rose Brook, where two sons and three daughters were born, Scott Rose, Mrs. Elsie King, Mrs. Emily Hartford, Mrs. Augusta Brown and Ralph Rose. Of these, four have gone to homes of their own, but have ever returned to their parents frequently, while Ralph has remained their helper and companion. Besides a husband and five children, Mrs. Rose is survived by six grandchildren, two brothers, Frank T. and James B. Stillman, a sister, Miss Doris Stillman, three nephews and a niece, and a host of more distant relatives.

It is noteworthy that during the time Mr. and Mrs. Rose have lived together, the first death under their roof is that which has saddened so many, at this time.

Miss Baker Passes Away.

The death of Miss Leuretta Baker occurred at her home in Maple park, Hobart, Friday evening last, as the result of encephalitis and complications. She had not been in her usual health for several months past and a turn for the worse came about eight weeks ago, since which time she had been a great sufferer. She bore her illness with fortitude, however, and made a valiant though unsuccessful fight for life. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. A. M. Wilkins will officiate, and burial will be in the family plot in Evergreen cemetery, Jefferson.

Miss Baker was born at Jefferson on July 2, 1889, and her early life was spent in that village. For a number of years past she was a nurse and was always faithful to her work, her services being highly prized by all. She was a member of the Methodist church and was a woman held in loving esteem by all her friends.

Mrs. Baker is survived by her mother, Mrs. Anna Baker, one brother, William Baker, with whom she resided, and a sister, Mrs. Grace Cowan, living in Montada.

Advice for Movie Hero.

The movie hero, carrying the unconscious heroine, was bravely struggling through a terrible storm. At the point of exhaustion he made the cabin, and bursting in laid the girl on a convenient bed. The storm was raging terribly and the cabin door stood wide open. A little chap, lost in his excitement, yelled: "Shut the door."

LITTLE EDITORIAL NOTES.

Now that the courts martial have disposed of the Linn Gale case and say properly by giving him a long term of imprisonment, it might be well should these bodies turn their attention again to the Bergdollis. The family, singly and collectively, is a stench in the public nostrils and to let Grover and the rest go free offends the public sense of equal justice. Also it makes the public ask what's back of it?

Demonstrations in Europe and South America in favor of two foreigners convicted of murder at South Braintree have had the effect of stirring up other demonstrations in Dedham, Mass., where the convicted men are confined. Sentence on the men has not been imposed, and it is apparently felt among the radicals and criminals of foreign capitals that bomb throwing on their part will influence the American court. It would be a sorry day for America if our courts should permit themselves to be influenced by such considerations. There would, in fact be an end of justice.

There are queer cases before the Department of Labor sometimes when hearings are had under the workmen's compensation law. There is for example that of the Elmira man employed by a contractor to aid in moving a building. A rat ran out to the building and the man tried to kill it. A silver entered his finger and blood poisoning ensued. The court denied his claim for compensation on the ground that he was hired to move a building and not to kill rats.

Since football is very largely a college game and absolutely non-professional, it is perhaps natural that it should appeal largely to college graduates and since colleges according to the past few years, it is also natural that the interest in the game should also greatly increase. Not so long ago there were but few colleges which had football teams and now there are few who do not and instead of the interest being confined to Harvard, Princeton and Yale and perhaps West Point and Annapolis, it is as wide as the country. Evidence of this interest can be seen in the demand for the bulletins of the games by the press and in the number who gather Saturday evenings to read the record of the day. True it is a game which lasts but a few weeks, but while it does last it holds attention and perhaps it is well it does not last longer. Certainly in no season as long as that of basketball could the teams withstand the grueling contests, the tests of physical endurance, which are part of the game.

During the first nine months of the present year nearly a million tons less of raw sugar have been imported into the United States in the corresponding period in 1920. During the same period there has been only 20,000 tons less than in 1920. During nine months of the present year the consumption is roughly estimated at 3,251,000 tons. In 1920 the consumption was 3,500,000 tons less from the above figures, furnished by the American Sugar Refining company, it would appear that more sugar was used in the period of high prices than there is now, when the price was figures have practically been reached. Either it is this or else there was more hoarding in high-price times and during the past year there has been consumption of the sugar previously hoarded. Not since 1911 has there been so little sugar sold in the United States by refiners as during the present year.

Mr. Moreau Leaves The Star.
D. Howard Moreau, who for the past seven months has been a member of the Star's reportorial staff, left Saturday night for his home in Freehold, N. J. Owing to the recent death of his father and the state of his mother's health, he felt obliged to return home. He will continue his newspaper work, however, as he has been engaged by his uncle, Alex. L. Moreau, publisher of the Freehold Transcript, a weekly paper with a circulation of 1,000, to become the Transcript's representative in Hightstown, a village near Freehold. He will have complete charge of the paper's interests in this town including news advertising and subscriptions.

Mr. Moreau, who is a young man of character and capability, made many friends during his stay in Oneonta, all of whom will join his former associates on The Star in wishing him abundant success in his new work.

"Would it hurt your feelings if I were to remind you that you've been owing me $20 for six months?"

PRESS AND PUBLIC OPINION

Where Common Sense Surprises.

The proposed settlement of the Upper State problem leaves all traditions in similar cases and enunciates a new principle. The commission realized the utter impossibility of drawing a line which would satisfy the conflicting claims of German and Polish nationality, and so recommended to the amendment of old-void diplomats, that the political boundary be made a secondary consideration and that attention be given to establishing an economic unit.

Simply interpreted it means that the commission took the viewpoint that how these people are going to live was more important than the traditional slogan of "Under which flag?" True the division remains but, if the report is adopted, there will be no customs barrier between the two portions and, so far as the common necessities of life are concerned, no barrier of any kind.

This is so sensible that no wonder Europe is indignant. It looks so very much like compelling two people with common interests, to live at cross-purposes of having each other across a bustling political fence that the French foreign office, in particular, expresses itself as much chagrined with the whole business. To the French mind, as to any old-time diplomatic mind in Europe, the economic arrangements always come later and are wrenched into conformity with the political designs. That's the why of wars.—[Detroit News]

Senate a "Bloc" Stronghold

The agricultural bloc is not so strong in the lower chamber. Wyoming and Nevada do not possess in the house of representatives the same voting strength as New York and Pennsylvania. The representatives of the industrial states whose inhabitants pay the great bulk of the duties will have more to say about the provisions of this tax bill before it is finally enacted into law. Nevertheless the large majority by which the senate of the compromise plan is unanimous. It indicates that Republican control of the upper chamber does not assure the country a fulfillment of that party's solemn pledges.—[Boston Herald]

One Year's Labor Losses.

Involuntary idleness by workmen in this country between July, 1919, and Aug. 15, 1921, cost them the prodigious sum of $6,500,000,000 in wages lost to them forever—enough to build 3,000,000 homes worth more than $2,000 each for the families of laboring men.

This loss of wages was not the result of strikes. It was caused by the shutting down of great mills and industrial plants, the paralysis of building trades, the excessive demands for high wages everywhere and the refusal of the public to buy manufactured products at ruling high costs.

The losses estimated were not figured at peak wages, but on normal pay levels by experts of the unemployment conference.—[Chicago Journal of Commerce]

A Flash in the Pan.

Karl's second attempt on the throne of Hungary has ended as summarily and ignominiously as the first one.

But some scores or hundreds—perhaps thousands—have died as a result of his attempt to satisfy his ambition. The recovery of Europe has been retarded. The peace of half the continent has been threatened. The Entente governments, big and little will show themselves dangerously impregnated with the ancient theory that some sort of divinity hedges a king if they do not hold this man to a stern accountability for his acts. There certainly is no law of neutrality or hospitality to protect him now. He has forfeited his right to liberty. Saint Helena may be too good for him but there are other remote islands in the world on some one of which he should be condemned to pass the remainder of his life as a prisoner of state.—[Buffalo Express]

Millionaires in Russia.

The Russian government has announced the issue of bills for 10,000,000 rubles each. This large denomination is new because there is so much money in Russia that it can't be carried around handily. One desiring to be rated in the millionaire class could go to Russia with $20 in his pocket and fetch the soul of his ambition. Twenty dollars will purchase a million rubles.

The Russian government has made millionaires out of most of its citizens by printing piles of bills. The United States could give everybody in the country a million dollars in the same way.

Just Heroes

"Oh cut it out! It provided an important photograph of the group Diaz, Reilly and Jacques when a question of precedence arose. This is America," he added and the three dignitaries grinned and accepted the situation cheerfully. It was he who made that picture with master of ceremonies at the coming Washington conference.—[Manchester Union]

KIRK-MAHER CO. REORGANIZED

Clarence E. Kilburn, former Vice President, Promoted to Office of President. L. Lewis, former Vice President, promoted to office of Vice President. Will Conline, former Vice President, promoted to office of Vice President. L. Lewis, former Vice President, promoted to office of Vice President.

Malone Oct. 30—Clarence E. Kilburn, son of the late L. D. Kilburn of Malone and himself one of Franklin county's most prominent young business men, was elected to the office of president of the Kirk-Maher organization at a meeting of the company's interests yesterday. The office of president was made vacant through the recent death of L. R. Kirk, founder and president of the well known ice cream manufacturing which stretch from Montreal south through New York state to the Pennsylvania border.

The new president is a graduate of Cornell university and a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity. After his graduation he entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Advertising company, with which organization he held an important position until the opening of the war with Germany, when he entered the military service and served with distinction throughout the conflict with the 26th Infantry of the 1st division. At the close of the war he was honorably discharged with the rank of captain.

Returning to Malone Mr. Kilburn entered the Kirk-Maher organization as sales manager in 1919. During the following year he became vice president of the company and assumed active supervision over the eight ice cream plants controlled and operated by the company.

During the time he has had active management, Mr. Kilburn has demonstrated his fitness for the important executive position to which he has been elected, and his promotion will be endorsed generally by the stockholders and public at large. He is a director in the People's Trust company of Malone and vice president of the Malone Chamber of Commerce. Coincident with the election of Mr. Lewis Vice President.

Kilburn L. B. Lewis, president of the Horton Ice Cream company, of New York, the largest manufacturers of ice cream in the world was elected to the office of vice president. Mr. Lewis has long been stockholder in the company and has for many years been a warm personal friend of its late president. His affiliation as a member of the executive board of the company has been in line with the hearty approval of all in interest.

Chairman of Board.
At the meeting yesterday, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Kirk, widow of the late president, was named as a member of the board of directors in the place made vacant by the death of Mr. Kirk. She was subsequently made chairman of the board which besides herself is composed of Mr. Kilburn, the newly elected president and State Treasurer, Monroe Marshall, president of the People's Trust company, Mr. Marshall's name is well known in the business financial and political life of Northern New York. His position on the board of directors is a strong factor in the reorganization of the company. The remaining officers are George H. Greenleaf, secretary and treasurer, and E. M. Berry, assistant treasurer.

Mr. Kirk's Policies

It will be the aim of the newly elected officers to carry out in every respect the policies and ideals of the late president and in every way to continue the principles as laid down by Mr. Kirk. To this end every person in the organization is pledged and that it will continue to prosper under the new directing heads is a foregone conclusion.

LOCAL MENTION

—New equipment in the shape of furniture and fixtures is arriving at the local office of the Western Union company and the office is to be made modern and creditable to so enterprising and up-to-date city.

—Owing doubtless to the present session of the supreme court in Delhi and the recent one at Cooperstown, there was no motion picture business before the court at chambers in Oneonta Saturday. Justice Kellogg returns this morning to Delhi, where the trial term will probably consume most of the week.

—Rev. B. M. Johns of the First Methodist church has been suffering from a severe cold for several days and his pulpit yesterday was occupied by Rev. S. H. Wood, a retired member of the Wyoming conference residing here whose sermon was profitable and inspiring for the good congregation present to hear it.

—Oneonta men who were released from active service with the navy and placed on the reserve list after the signing of the armistice have been notified that they will soon be honorably discharged from the naval service. The appropriations for the maintenance of the Naval Reserve force have been greatly reduced and it has been found necessary to discharge nearly half of the reservists.

—Evidently the voters of Otsego county are pretty well satisfied regarding the course of the registration boards to which is entrusted the duty of placing names on the lists of voters. Ordinarily there are a dozen or more voters who make application to have their names placed on the lists on the ground of mistake or negligence on the part of some of the boards in the county. The last day of application for mandamus orders was Saturday last and not a single application was made thereafter before Justice Kellogg.

BASEBALL FANS, ATTENTION

President Marx Requests All to Pay Up Back Pledges; Money Especially Desirable at This Stage of the Game.

Dr. F. H. Marx, president of the Community Athletic association, reports that several hundred dollars still is due the association from unpaid pledges made by local baseball fans last spring. The Oneonta team made a fine record this year and it would seem as though the fans who subscribed to a $5 membership in the Athletic association would be glad to make good their indebtedness. It is requested that the dues be paid at the C. R. McCarthy clothing store.

In addition to providing stellar baseball during the summer months for Oneonta's many fans and fanettes, the association since the close of the season has made notable improvements to the Neahwa park diamond, so that when Decoration Day of 1922 rolls around, as it is bound to do, the ball lot promises to be a good imitation of the Polo Grounds. Money is therefore highly desirable at this stage of the game and it is hoped that all who signed up for membership will make good their pledges.

MUTT AND JEFF IN CHINATOWN.

Seat Sale for Bud Fisher Comedy Opens This Morning at 10.

"Mutt and Jeff in Chinatown," the latest Bud Fisher effusion, based on his famous comics of the same name and fame, will be the next attraction at the Oneonta theatre tomorrow night only. Due to alterations there will be no matinee. The new play, tells the story of a young heiress who is in love, but cannot marry unless she secures the consent of her guardians.

"Mutt and Jeff" is in tow acts and a half dozen diverting scenes. Real comedy, mirth, tuneful melodies, pretty women in gorgeous gowns and exceptional scenic adornment, surprises and novelties are a few of the good things promised. If one wonders why "Mutt and Jeff" are an international hit as well as an American institution, this play should act as infallible and convincing proof. See display adv. on page 2 of this issue. Seat sale opens today at 10 a. m.

HALLOWE'EN FESTIVITIES

Sundry Parties Held and to Be Held in City and Vicinity.

There were numerous Halloween festivities in Oneonta Saturday evening, and there will be more tonight, which is the real Halloween. As will be recalled by perusal of The Star of Saturday, or a glance over its pages today, there were numerous scheduled events, and all have passed or are sure to pass happily. Among those which were held on Saturday are the following:

Events of Saturday.

There were over 100 present at the Halloween social given at Odd Fellows hall Saturday evening by the Women's Relief corps. The programs included drills, a grand march and appropriate songs and recitations, after which coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts were served. About half those present were in costume and prizes were awarded to the most ludicrous and the best looking costume. The winner of the former was Mrs. Sarah Bishop, who impersonated a colored woman, and of the latter, Miss Ethelyn Webster, with a Liberty costume.

The Philatelic class of the West Oneonta Free Baptist church held a Halloween social Saturday evening in the church parlors, which were appropriately decorated in autumnal colors for the occasion. There was a large attendance, among the guests being a number from Oneonta, and all heartily enjoyed the entertainment, which included the telling of fortunes and "The Chase of the Black Cat." All the younger folk were masked, besides some of the older ones, and prizes were awarded for the best costumes. Later refreshments were served of a nature appropriate to the season.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. A. P. Mills' troop of Girl Scouts held a Halloween rally at the home of O. C. McCrum on Center street. Appropriate house decorations and the gay costumes of the girls made the scene a festive one. Everyone participated with a spirit of happy comradeship in a program of games, stunts, and informal dancing, which had been arranged by an efficient committee of Scouts. At the conclusion of the afternoon's merriment Halloween refreshments were served by waitresses dressed in orange and black.

Miss Evelyn Turner of 9 Brewer avenue entertained some 20 of her young friends at a Halloween party Saturday evening. The evening was delightfully passed in various Halloween pranks intermingled with games and music, and concluded with a tempting luncheon.

Meetings to Be.

There will be a Halloween social in the parlors of the Main Street Baptist church tonight at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the Baraca class and their families are urged to come. The committee ask all who can to come in costume.

THE BURROUGHS CLUB.

First Meeting of Season Plans for Work of Winter Months.

The October meeting of the Burroughs club of Oneonta was held Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. A. E. Ford on Watkins avenue. There was a good attendance and an excellent program was given.

Superintendent Dann of the Oneonta Public schools gave an interesting report of the work of the boys and girls in the various grades of the East End school, where under the enthusiastic direction of Miss Slade, as principal, cordially supported by the teachers of the school, the study of bird-rolls around, as it is bound to do, the ball lot promises to be a good imitation of the Polo Grounds. Money is therefore highly desirable at this stage of the game and it is hoped that all who signed up for membership will make good their pledges.

Miss Ada K. Smith of the Normal faculty gave an instructive and entertaining talk descriptive of her summer sojourn in Nova Scotia, with stories of deep sea fishing and of her hikes through the province in the vicinity of Digby.

At the business session it was voted that the club as an organization join the Burroughs Memorial association, which is to purchase Slabides and Woodchuck lodge and hold them as a perpetual memorial. It was also arranged to hold subsequent meetings of the society on the last Saturday of each month. The list of hostesses will be given at a later date.

Grocery Firm Dissolves.

The firm of Radley and Crandall, which for some months had conducted a grocery business at 2 East street, has been dissolved by mutual agreement and heretofore the business will be conducted by A. F. Radley, a member of the former firm, at the same address. The other partner, Frank Crandall, has made no definite plan for the future, but has under advice several attractive offers. In a notice appearing elsewhere in this issue of The Star, Mr. Radley announces the change and asks for a continuance of the good patronage which the store has always enjoyed.

ENTERTAINMENT, I. O. O. F. HALL.

Nana Krebs, Soloist and Elocutionist, Appears Thursday Night.

The Royal Rebekah lodge announces the appearance of Nana Krebs of Clarke Summit, Pa., at Odd Fellows hall, Chestnut street, on Thursday evening of this week. According to the advance notices she will give original monologues, musical recitations, dramatic selections, character sketches, cello solos and stunts, a lot of odds and ends including good old fiddle tunes and a little touch of opera. The entertainer comes well recommended and the Rebekahs and their Odd Fellow husbands are anticipating a very enjoyable evening. A general invitation is also extended to the public.

BERT MARTIN INJURED

Sustains Compound Fracture of Right Ankle in Fall From Tree He was Cutting on Lawn of Edward E. Ford.

Saturday afternoon, at about 2 o'clock, Bert Martin, a lineman in the employ of the Otsego & Delaware Telephone company here but residing in Laurens, fell from a tree which he was felling on the rear of the residence lawn of Edward E. Ford on Walnut street and sustained a serious and compound fracture of the right ankle. The ambulance was called and he was hurried to the Fox Memorial hospital where Dr. Arthur W. Cutler attended him and reduced the fracture. Yesterday, while suffering pain in the injured ankle, he was otherwise quite comfortable and, it is believed, he sustained no other injuries of a serious nature. Dr. Cutler hopes that he will have a normal ankle in time.

Mr. Martin, with associates, has taken the job from Mr. Ford to cut down several poplar trees at the rear of his lot, the roots of which were extending to the cellar and were threatening to give him trouble. The trees, too, had become quite large and one had fallen. The men, having Saturday half holidays, had taken the work to do when not at work for the company.

The task was being done by cutting the trees in sections, felling upper parts first. Mr. Martin was about 20 feet from the ground engaged in sawing when he felt the safety strap which, when the workman's ankle spikes are in the pole or tree, holds him upright and in place, give way. Quickly divining the trouble he attempted to grip the tree, but failing he pulled his feet free and fell feet downward a distance of fully 30 feet. When his associates reached him the fracture of the ankle was at once disclosed and he was rushed to the hospital. Had he been unable to free himself quickly he would doubtless have fallen over backward and struck upon his head and shoulders with quite likely a more serious and possible fatal outcome.

Mr. Martin is a man 25 years of age and had been in the employ of the company for about one year. His family consists of a wife only. She visited him at the hospital yesterday. His numerous friends learn with regret of his misfortune.

COMMUNITY CHEST PLANS

Monday Luncheon at Kilkenny's Today at Which Perfected Plans Are Anticipated for Completion of the Drive.

Completed plans will, it is expected, be made at the noon-day luncheon today to be held at Kilkenny's on Broad street for the reorganization of the force of canvassers for the Community Chest so that the large number of prospective subscribers who have not yet been solicited may be reached and the final effort made to secure the funds needed for the support of the various organizations uniting in the drive.

No luncheon was held on Saturday and hence no report has been made of the subscriptions received since the amount announced in Saturday's Star was reported at noon on Friday. It is believed that today's report will show a considerable advance and that the hands of the clock will be moved nearer the goal.

It is the belief also of the officers of the Community association having the drive in charge that if the citizens of the city can be reached and the plans and needs for health and social welfare work fully explained to them that many additional subscriptions can be secured.

Those more experienced in health and social welfare work are fully aware it is a campaign of education and that it is an easy task to arouse any city to the value and importance of this work. It is believed also that this work is being more understood from day to day, and that the need is a clear understanding of the project.

It was said by one actively interested in the project yesterday that it is unbelievable that citizens of the city are disposed to discontinue support of the several organizations which have been maintained here for years and equal confidence was expressed that citizens will contribute to the newer activities once they understand the service they will render the community.

The project will be thoroughly canvassed at the luncheon today and it is expected that plans for reaching those not yet contributing will be perfected. Optimism is expressed that the various organizations will receive the support required to carry out the activities planned for the year.

Business Meeting and Dinner.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church will hold a regular business meeting at the church on Tuesday, Nov. 1. A covered dish dinner will be served at noon. Election of officers for the coming year. Everybody invited to dinner, which will be 25 cents.

Hubby is sure of a smiling welcome. He has a package of Klipnackle High-grade coffee. advt 5t
